Lindner Crowns Maxine Sowards May Queen; Mortar Board Taps

• CHOSEN AS MAY QUEEN and also as the recipient of the Pi Beta Phi award to the outstanding senior woman, Maxine Sowards reigned over last Friday's May Day ceremonies in Lisner Auditorium, when nine junior women were tapped by Mortar Board, national women's honorary. Individual activities awards were also presented.

Those chosen as Mortar Board's new officers are Nancy Saunders, president; Claudia Chapline, vice-president; Marilyn Sandwick, secretary; Pat Reynolds, historian, and Lou Ann Hall, treasurer. Other new members are Jeanne Cleary, Dorothy Lee, Hazel Shepardson and Faye Zigmund.

Outgoing Student Council president Tad Lindner presided over the presentation of individual awards and the introduction of new officers of governing bodies. The Omicron Delta Kappa award to the outstanding senior man went to Tim Evans. Marilyn Sandwick was awarded the Alpha Delta Pi commendation for the outstanding junior woman and Nancy McCoach received the Mortar Board cup as the outstanding sophomore woman.

Activity and Journalism Awards
The award to the club making the greatest contribution to student activities during the past year went to the University Art Club. Pi Delta Epsilon, national journalism honorary, presented two awards, one, the Medal of Merit, to William Seabrooke for making the highest contribution to campus journalism through his work on Mecheleiv and the other to The Hatchet for excellence in editorial writing for the year 1949-50.

Kappa Delta sorority won both the University Players award for the largest number of tickets sales to Players productions and the Cherry Blossom cup for the second year in succession.

Newly elected presidents governing bodies were introduced. They are: Mildred King, Panhellenic Council; Ed Swiggard, Interfraternity Council; Pat Carlisle, Religious Council; Al Moe, Engineers' Council, and Hugo Perez, Student Bar Association.

Composing the May Queen's court were the three other finalists, Dianne Farrell, Anne Noyes and Tot Weld, as well as the other candidates from among the women listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities."

Initiation in Strong Hall

Initiation ceremonies for Mortar Board were conducted in Strong Hall Lounge, Saturday, after which a joint meeting was held with the outgoing chapter. At 6 p.m. an initiation banquet was held in the Trustees' Room of Lisner Library.

Music before the May Day ceremonies was provided by the Army Air Force dance band. After the festivities a concert of modern popular music featuring works of Duke Ellington and Glenn was given by the Army Air Force Jazz Band. Several vocal selections were presented by Delora Bueno, well-known South American nightclub chanteuse.

1200 Graduates

Marvin to Address Students At Spring Convocation

• PRESIDENT Cloyd H. Marvin will present diplomas to 1200 graduates in the University Yard May 30 at 8 p.m. In case of rain, commencement exercises will take place in Constitution Hall.

Three outstanding alumni will receive achievement awards after which Dr. Marvin will address the graduating class and present them with degrees.

The Baccalaureate services Monday, May 27 at the Washington Cathedral, will be followed by the presentation of honors and awards, May 28 at 4 p.m. in the lower lounge of Lisner Auditorium.

Dancing at President Marvin's reception for the graduates and their parents will be the last get-together for the departing seniors before graduation. The annual affair will be held at the Mayflower Hotel, May 29 at 8 p.m.

This convocation will be the 131st in the history of the University. Last year 1700 students received degrees at the spring convocation. The 1950 spring class was the largest in the University's history.

Graduates will be given allotment of tickets for the graduation ceremonies, but no tickets will be required for the Baccalaureate Service.

Class Officers Elected; Inzinna Leads Seniors

• NEW SENIOR CLASS president, Joe Inzinna, said today that he was in favor of including all class officers on the Student Council.

He feels that the Student Council has taken over a number of duties of the class officers and has left the officers on the sidelines.

This statement came after the elections Wednesday and Thursday in which Senior Inzinna defeated Patti McNally. Other winning senior class officers were: William Shaw, vice president; Ellen Ingersoll, secretary, and Joe Goodwin, treasurer.

Inzinna, during the campaign, had promised a more coordinated senior class through more class functions. This included revitalizing class officers in order to make them more important. "I want to encourage interclass co-operation," he stated, "and attempt to gain more power and support from the administration."

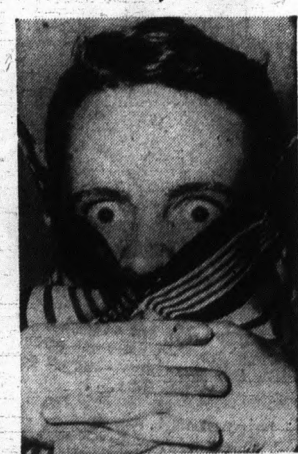

Gerald Watson, newly elected junior class president, issued this statement for the paper: "The junior class is preparing a junior class mixer for the beginning of the year."

Taking office with Watson are Louanne Hoffeins, vice president; Ellen MacEwen, secretary, and Eugenia Brandenburger, treasurer.

"I would like to thank all of the students who made my election possible," Fred Warder, victor in the sophomore contest, said.

Assisting him will be Paul Jennings, vice president, Neil Weaver and Louise Hos, secretary and treasurer, respectively.

Combined Assembly to Honor Outstanding Sport Stars Friday

• OUTSTANDING UNIVERSITY ATHLETES will be honored at an Awards Assembly Friday at 11 a.m. in Lisner Auditorium. Students who wish to attend the assembly will be excused from classes, Director of Men's Activities Max Farrington announced today.

The Honorable James R. Kirkland, Federal Judge of the District of Columbia, will act as Master of Ceremonies at this combined function sponsored by the Women's Recreation Association, Interfraternity Council, Intramural Office, Intersorority Athletic Board and the University Varsity with the cooperation of Miss Virginia Kirkbride and Max Farrington.

These groups have joined with the directors of activities to incorporate their previously independent awards presentations into one large assembly attended by the whole University.

Among the awards to be presented are: President's Cup and The Seniors' Cup, WRA and Intersorority awards to outstanding girls, presented by Judge Reva Beck Bosone, Congresswoman from Utah; Columbian Women's Cup to the outstanding WRA girl, presented by Miss Kirkbride; scrolls and wristwatches to the outstanding basketball and football player by basketball coach Bill Reinhardt and football coach Bo Rowland; Intramural and Interfraternity trophies, by Joe Krupa; The Tuffy Leemans Memorial Trophy to a senior football player, and the De Angelis Trophy to the most valuable baseball player by Vincent De Angelis.

The trophies to be awarded are now on display in the Student Union show cases next to the stairway.

Recorded Music At Lisner Friday

• SELECTIONS from "South Pacific" by Rogers, four Inca songs with Yma Sumac, Peruvian soprano, and "Deverment in E Flat" by Mozart will highlight a program of recorded music in Lisner Auditorium Friday from 12:30 p.m. to 1:30 p.m.

Boosters Sets Ruling Board; Group Begins Work June 1

• GLEN CAMP, JR. was named to serve a two-month probationary period as head of the 1951-52 Colonial Boosters, the administering subcommittee of the Student Life Committee announced yesterday. His acceptance is pending.

Seven others were appointed to the Executive Board to serve with Camp. They are: Ginnye Perrott, secretary; Viola Andolfatto, treasurer; Carolyn Wood, publicity director; Bud Laubscher, Booster Section director; Ed McGandy, membership director; Ellen Ingersoll, special projects chairman, and Louanne Hoffeins, pep rally chairman.

The Executive Board members were chosen from a group of 14 applicants by personal interviews.

Apply for Rooms, SC Positions By May 15

• APPLICATIONS for the several Student Council appointments and for rooms in the Student Union Office Building must be filed in the Student Activities Office by Tuesday, May 15.

Any student interested in serving as Homecoming Chairman, Student Council Comptroller, Interfraternity Athletic Chairman, Career Conference Chairman, or as members of Student Life Committee should apply to Miss Edith Harper.

Office space must be applied for by those groups which now have offices as well as others, according to Student Union Chairman Tom Mutchler.

All organizations wishing to schedule events on the Student Activities calendar should submit them to the Activities office by July 1.

The 14 applications were picked by the subcommittee from a group of 30 petitions. Those not chosen for the Executive Board will be contacted about positions on the staff.

Temporary plans of the organization include: more publicity; more spirit and action for all athletics; an organized cheering section at basketball games; provisions for spectators at baseball games; more individual publicity for varsity players; half-time entertainment; membership drives; new cheers and supervision of cheer leaders and some representation at road games.

Law School Section In Green Cherry Tree

• "OUR PRINTER said that the Cherry Tree will be ready for distribution by May 15," Tim Evans said in a quaking voice today. The cover will be Raleigh Tavern Green and will sport a colored photograph of the Student Union.

A special Law School section will be one of the new features in the 1951 Cherry Tree. In addition to all the law fraternities the graduates will have individual photographs.

The theme of the Annual will be movie titles which will be set off by appropriate caricatures sketched by Evans who did the art work for the '49 and '50, Cherry Trees.

The section containing photographs of the graduating University students will have a 5,000 word new feature, appropriately titled "Scenario." A historical sketch, a feature about campus life and a poem, will be included.

All campus organizations will be covered in this comprehensive Annual which will preserve the picture of the University in the year 1950-51.

Cherry Tree Subscriptions are now on sale at a booth in the Student Union at $4.00 per copy. The booth will be open from 12 to 1 p.m. and 5 to 6 p.m.

Dean F. M. Feiker Retires; Feted at Engineers Banquet

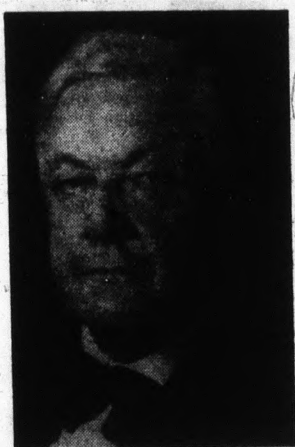

• DEAN FREDERICK M. Feiker, who will retire as Dean of the University School of Engineering at the end of the academic year, was honored at the 26th annual Engineers' Banquet last Saturday at the Dodge Hotel.

Feiker will continue on the faculty as professor emeritus in residence and will teach his class in management problems.

Dean Feiker, named dean at the University in 1939, is a native of Northampton, Mass. He was graduated from Worcester Polytechnic Institute in 1904 with the degree of bachelor of science in electrical engineering from the institute.

He is a member of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, the American Academy of Political and Social Science, the American Association for Advancement of Science and the Society for the Promotion of Engineering Education.

Charles A. Plyer, president of the Engineers' Council, presided at the

Abandoned Baby Case Club Topic

• THE RIGHTS of an abandoned baby have been the subject of a year long competition the Van Vleck Case Club has been holding.

Miss Louella M. Berg, a night student, presented the best argument and written brief and was chosen as the final winner of the contest. Harold M. Green, runner-up, tied as winner of the fall semester competition, with Miss Berg.

Wilmer Schantz, a day student, was a close second as he counseled for the Appellee in this mock Appellate Court trial. Schantz and runner-up William D. Palmer were the winners of the competition for the current semester, qualifying them for the deciding competition.

Celeb Capers Draw Wheels To Honors

• YOU CAN'T TELL without a program—usually, that is. But last Saturday night at the Celebrity Capers in the Burgundy Room of the Wardman Park Hotel, programs were merely a formality... the only people who weren't "celebrities" at the Newman Club's annual Capers were the dates of those honored.

Each celebrity was presented with a corsage at the door and proceeded from there to the front of the ball room where four tables were reserved for them.

At 10:30 Jack Skelly, president of the Newman Club, grabbed the mike and amid wise cracks and sprinkled humor presented the 15 outstanding seniors: Pete Cordell, Ace Adler, Artie Cerra, Tad Lindner, Maxine Sowards, Edith Venezky, Barbara Gallagher, John Graves, Lee Harrison, Tim Evans, Ruth Wilson, Janet Wildman, Gene Witkin, Jake Bayer and Bob Lesser.

Edie Harper and Bo Rowland, guests of honor, presented certificates of merit to each celebrity. John Graves was his usual dynamic self, greeting everyone in the spotlight; Janet Wildman, conspicuous by her absence from a recent assembly at which she was awarded a cup for highest scholarship during four years of college, skated from the rear of the room just in time to receive her award. This time she wasn't home studying!

Third Annual Show

Prize Art Exhibits Shown in Library

• PATTI McNALLY, Gennaro Viola and Mrs. Audrey Merritt took the main prizes at the Art Club's third annual art show. The judges announced the contest winners at a private showing in the Library Sunday evening. Prizes were awarded in three classes, commercial art, water color and oils.

Patti McNally's pen and ink fashion drawing received first in commercial art. Miss McNally also won first in commercial art last year.

Honorable mention was awarded John Douglass for a fashion illustration titled "Rendering of A Coat." Douglass' previous prizes include a scholarship to Abbott Art School and honorable mention in Corcoran's annual exhibit in 1948. First prize in water colors went to Gennaro Viola for his picture "New York Harbor." Hailing from Naples, Italy, Viola, a senior, started painting for the first time in Vermont last summer.

In oils, Audrey Merritt placed first with "Fruit and Bridge" a still life. Mrs. Merritt is a University student studying at Corcoran.

Thomas Barnell, a senior, won first honorable mention with a painting called "Architectural." Last year he won second in oils and second in drawing in this same show.

"Portrait of an Artist" by William Zacha won second honorable mention. In 1950, Zacha won second in his class at the Corcoran spring concours.

The paintings are hung on both the first and second floors of the library and will be there through May 16.

Typewriter Room On SC Agenda

• THE NEWLY elected Student Council officers were sworn in by Advocate Jake Bayer at the Council meeting Thursday. The officers will take over officially May 30.

The typewriters for the rental service in the Student Union are now being ordered according to Student Union Chairman Tom Mutchler. Warren Hull reported progress in getting cards to replace the current bulky Student Activities Books.

Under The Axe

AS THE YEAR ends and the last Hatchet is published, the Board of Editors traditionally pauses, reflects, and considers both the past and the future in this annual "Under The Axe."

We could have given you a conventional news resume of 1950-51, citing the notable successes of Homecoming, the Career Conference, the Placement Office, and the advances made by the Medical School and the Cancer Clinic. We could have applauded these beneficial things.

But a conventional round-up just doesn't appeal to us. If you'd like a complete record of happenings, buy a bound volume of The Hatchet—or even better, listen to the Cherry Tree barkers in the Union. Rather than rehash the news, we have chosen to apply what small insight we have gained during the year to an inspection of how the University can best survive its current problems of finances, apathy, and obscurity.

To begin at the source of the problem, it might be wise to discuss our Administration, faculty, and student body, all of which have avoided their responsibilities to the University.

Administrative Shortcomings

The Administration has alienated the students by failing to show confidence in a student body which should be able to bear such responsibility. Caution in granting authority to students is understandable, but we are convinced that wise delegation of power can be only beneficial to student maturity. It is up to the Administration to face issues squarely without evasion. A community spirit is hampered by the point blank refusal of the Administration to allow GW's affiliation with those national groups which lack the privileged status of honorary, social, professional, and religious societies. If the University is ever to gain national recognition, it must allow participation in the exchange of ideas possible only by accepting membership in worthy national councils. The possibility of subversive influences reaching the campus through student affiliations would be stopped by the University's continued right to grant final approval.

A demonstration of faculty interest has been sadly lacking in the support of too many events of significance. Some professors have successfully ventured to give personal attention to individuals outside the classroom. If more of the faculty were to follow a similar program, much of the feeling of "belonging"—common to campus schools—could be developed. Unfortunately, there are many cases where even office hours have become meaningless in terms of student-faculty relationships.

Awaken Students!

All of the blame, of course, for these weak ties does not fall on the faculty. The students, in accepting conditions as they find them, have allowed disinterest to breed itself in the shadow of ignorance. An attempt by engineering students proved a successful experiment last week; their combined student-faculty banquet shows the way for further cooperation in many branches of the University.

Passing the buck is an old story! The responsibility to make the school an institution to be proud of rests with each individual student.

In no phase of life can anyone expect to receive more than the products of his original contribution.

Students who desire positions of leadership must always be aware of the responsibility accompanying honored posts. Enjoy the limelight, but make the show good. This year's leaders presented a colorful overture and finale, but the intervening acts lacked the qualities of action and decision. The newly-elected class officers should know that continued inactivity will further sabotage the former prestige of the titles. When energy returns prestige to positions, then will students turn out to vote.

Concern over the University's student activities is one of the first signs of student maturity; it develops that essential feeling of loyalty to the alma mater. Constant complaints over issues whose basic facts are unknown to them make students appear like mobs not guided by reason. Too many students shout about "unfair" administrative rulings without attempting to discover the facts. Their interest is only skin-deep, their motives selfish.

The loyal student is the one who carries the name and worth of the University to all. This form of personal publicity is the finest type of public relations. When this method is functioning smoothly, the necessity for formal publicity efforts will be lessened. Until then, we must advance the University's reputation by announcing our achievements to the press, local and national. Publicity should not be restricted to local society notes. More news releases should point up the national significance of University research, whether in medicine, government, or literature. An efficient public relations program requires seeking out information instead of waiting for it to appear in the office.

Promote Research Here

Research at the University, as we have implied, can be fruitful; we hope to see more facilities developed and used to strengthen the University's academic reputation as a research center. This city of files is unmatched in appeal to scholars in many fields. The University perhaps should not go to the degree of some schools which require specified amounts of research by all faculty members during the year, but it should make every effort to cultivate research—not only for degrees, but for public service. Several schools of the University may act for community welfare by pooling their knowledge and techniques in combatting problems that arise. Visiting scholars certainly should be informed that the University welcomes their use of its facilities.

The problems which face the University are circular; each factor supports and is supported by another factor. The whole is greater than the sum of its parts but it is not impregnable. The only solution is to attack at all points. No portion of the University should wait for another; all must begin now to work for the University's betterment. Delay only strengthens apathy's hold.

To The Editors

With due allowance for the fact that the life of a drama critic is not an easy one, and that a column must be filled with something, I should like to raise an alliterative eyebrow at the review of "Pink String and Sealing Wax," which appeared in your issue of May 1 (I hasten to state that I haven't the remotest connection with the University Players!)

While I have neither the qualifications nor the aspiration to be a critic myself, and may therefore be sticking my neck out, I'll volunteer the opinion that, all things considered, the production was rather well done. At least, I was quite surprised to learn from The Hatchet how thoroughly terrible it was! Your reviewer seems to have had trouble, for example, in understanding the dialogue, and criticizes practically the entire cast for poor enunciation or volume; in the performance that I attended, the criticism would be justified only in the case of Miss Carter, playing Eva; considering the demands of the role for great spontaneity and enthusiasm, I had little difficulty in forgiving the shortcoming in a non-professional actress.

I have the impression that your reviewer is over-anxious to appear very, very discerning, and thereby becomes hypocritical. I enjoyed this particular play very much, and think the Players deserve considerably more credit than censure.

Have You Met

Chuck Plyer

By FRANKIE HAYNES

● HERE IS a man who knows what it's like to be president. Charles H. Plyer, Jr., is currently president of the Engineers' Council and Omicron Delta Kappa, men's honorary activities fraternity. In addition to these, Chuck has been president three other times. In 1947 his first campus recognition was his election to president of Kappa Alpha fraternity. While in high school at Forest Lake Academy, Orlando, Florida, Chuck was president of his junior and senior classes.

Extra-curricular activities have always been Chuck's forte. In fact he said, "I suppose you might call them my hobby." It must be quite a trick to get such a reputation around a campus when you work full time and carry only 6 hours. This he had done before this semester and now is "letting my wife support me" while carrying 18 class hours and working 4 hours a day. 1952 is the scheduled date for his graduation from the School of Engineering, but considering the pauses in his education he is far from a dull student.

Has One Degree Now

Prior to entering GW, Chuck earned a Bachelor of Commercial Science Degree at the Benjamin Franklin University here in the District. While attending that school he took a position with the Washington Gas Light Co. and had been promoted to accountancy supervisor by the time war was declared.

The day after Pearl Harbor Chuck enlisted in the Navy with his eye on the aviation cadets but someone else had his eye on him. He was given a commission two months later and had to spend 17 "dull" months at the Bureau of Aeronautics. Finally he got out of the red tape and into gunnery school. Six months of training and Chuck went to Pearl Harbor and was given a lieutenant's grade as ordnance officer of an air field. Next stop was Midway where he spent two and one-half years and was promoted to Lieutenant Commander.

He began his studies at GW shortly after enlisting and with his orders home, he was able to continue both his education and his job at the Washington Gas Light Company.

Over the bridge table in the old Student Club, Chuck met the girl who became Betty Lou Plyer in September of 1948. She is a major in Psychology who will graduate in June.

Editor in 1949

Some of the organizations which he had joined by then were the American Society for Mechanical Engineers, Theta Tau and Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalism fraternity.

In 1949 he became Editor in Chief of "Mecheleciv." He thinks that it was the challenge of trying to put it back on its feet that attracted him. His interest in journalism dates back to high school where he was associate editor of the newspaper. At the University he edited the Freshman Handbook in 1947. He likes writing editorials best and would like to work on professional publications when he finishes GW.

He Has Two Loves

Chuck has two loves—his wife and Hawaii. He wants to live there and feels "that regardless of whether you starve, where you live is more important than having an interesting job."

Treasurer of Theta Tau is the only office he has ever held other than president. Chuck says, "People won't trust me to do any work."

Graves Writes Parting Speech

Dear Editor:

Contrary to popular or unpopular belief I will be graduating this month after completing the normal time in college of three and a half years. It seemed like an eternity. I enjoyed every millenium. This, however, is not the purpose of this letter.

Soon I will be an alumnus and plan to maintain close contact with the activities of my alma mater. This is certainly no ideal; this should be the intention of every normal student. This is the crux of my letter. I want to see every student treated as a student.

Our situation in the nation's capital is truly significant. We should consider ourselves very fortunate in having this unusual environment that the other schools do not have. This environment serves as a valuable concomitant to enlightenment in our college days. It is the apathy of the student to these good fortunes that disappoints me. One can only expect in return what one puts forth as a decent effort. This lack of interest has resulted in an atmosphere which has swept over our campus. It must be overcome if we expect to maintain the high standards for which our school is noted. Now on this we will hear many excuses; but they are baseless. It is up to us to take the initiative. Recognition of this fact will result in action by our administrative officials. Of course we have many part time students. But we also have many full time students, certainly more than the handful which turned out for the recent forum held for class officer elections, or the small crowd attending our May Day exercises in Lisner Auditorium. Who has grounds for complaint because we don't have more access to the auditorium? Time was when we held our election forums in Lisner. Then we had it packed. That was a thrill.

Now the converse is apparent in respect to the apathy in our band and "music" section. There the students who do participate receive no recognition for volunteer work on their own time.

Our university is in an expanding stage with continuous progress and we must consider this when we look around and complain. Let us count the numerous qualities with a reasonable smile on our faces and assist the fellow student whom you criticize when he makes a mistake while he is taking an active role.

In this sort of atmosphere to still interest is to make every individual an integral part. The student will say, "I know where this came from because I am paying for it and I am going to see that it is sustained." This statement will be the corollary of a student activity fee which must be thoroughly understood by all before it can be discussed intelligently. Do not disagree with a solution offered until you know what it is. Is there a better one? We have tried almost everything to arouse the student and I feel quite sure that no ordinary student will refuse to enroll because of an activity fee. There are many schools with such a menace and look at their spirit.

Men and women of college calibre should be treated as being capable of conducting student affairs and that is not being done as much as it should be.

This letter is not being written and offered by an authority, but by a student who expects to take his place in the alumni association and assist in the solution of any small problem my alma mater has, regardless of its magnitude. I have tried to look at both sides. Each side can approach it armed with simple spirit and interest which can readily lead to these solutions. Common judgment will be the only vehicle.

A contented student of today will be an active and participating alumnus of tomorrow. I have used this before, but it failed because I was alone. It requires a team.

John R. Graves

Foggy Bottom

● OCEAN CITY is nearly upon us . . . the social front is quiet . . . rain ruined most of the picnics??? spirits (not ethereal) were dampened, and so were many parched throats at the transplanted All-U picnic which invaded the privacy of the Sig house . . . when last heard from, the Sigs were floating north for the summer on leftover kegs of Old Georgetown

Watta you know . . . no pinnings, engagements, marriages, no nuttin this week . . . come on, somebody, do something, anything . . .

Notables among us peasants . . . Marge Horning, Pi Phi, elected Stardust Queen of Kappa Sig . . . The only comment Al could make was, "Stop shaking, you're making a fool of yourself." . . . Kay Hunsaker, honored by the PiKAs as their Dream Girl . . . Donn couldn't say anything . . . Cathie Coates, enjoying an off-key serenade by the three local chapters of Phi Sigma Kappa after being chosen District Moonlight Girl at the Wardman Park . . . Phi Alpha named not one, not two, nor three, but four Beasts of the Week at the Marina Friday night . . . Let's not overdo this thing, fellas . . .

Exchanges and other paltry items . . . DZ and Kappa Sig have Xchanged since the unreported Coffee Hour where Phi Alpha and Delta Zeta were united . . . Acacia is going overboard tonight, partying the Tri-Deltas from Md. U. one more swapparty . . . staid members of the Student Council trading stories and songs after meeting the other night . . . goodbye, so long, farewell, forever . . . Pi Phi was washed into the SAE house Sunday due to the rains that came—wet but fun.

Dietary note . . . among those who know, Don Lief's mother makes the best banana cream cake this side of Canarsie . . .

Bob Hildebrand of Acacia, fading away into the Air Force . . . his fraternity felt the blues and booze when they bade farewell to the ex-captain of the University's cheerleaders . . .

Late dispatch—there have been a few pinnings after all! Warren Hull, new council prexy, and Theta Ellen Ingersoll took the step out at Kenwood country club . . . Bill Giglio, new Hatchet Business Manager pinned to Sue Walsh and Pi Phi Betsy Porter is back from California sporting a rock resembling Gibraltar. Craig Atkins took the plunge along with all the other SAEs and pinned Theta Patti McNally. It's a good thing spring comes but once a year.

Campus Interviews on Cigarette Tests

Number 20...THE BALTIMORE ORIOLE

Clean-up man on the baseball nine, this slugger doesn't like to reach for 'em . . . wants it right over the plate.

And that's the way he likes his proof of cigarette mildness! No razzle-dazzle "quick-puff" tests for him. No one-whiff, one-puff experiments.

There's one test, he's discovered, that's right down the alley!

It's the test that proves what cigarette mildness really means.

THE SENSIBLE TEST . . . the 30-Day Camel Mildness Test, which simply asks you to try Camels as a steady smoke—on a pack-after-pack, day-after-day basis.

After you've enjoyed Camels—and only Camels—for 30 days in your "T-Zone" (T for Throat, T for Taste), we believe you'll know why . . .

More People Smoke Camels than any other cigarette!

Final Examination Schedule

Examinations will be two hours in length. Conflicts which cannot be adjusted with the instructor, and errors should be reported to the Registrar.

Colonials Fight for Playoff Berth

Ill Winds Blow

• LIGHT, FLUKEY winds made sailing tough in last Saturday's Octagonal Regatta in which the Colonials finished fifth. Once again Bob Harwood, the Buff's leading skipper, was one of the outstanding performers. This time Bob was second best, amassing a total of 41 points. The scores: Lehigh 85, Georgetown 77, Catholic 69, Maryland 69, GW 68, Haverford 61 and North Carolina 56.

The sailors will compete in the Invitational America Cup races on Saturday.

Theta Tau Champs

• THE INTRAMURAL bowling championship was won by Theta Tau, professional fraternity, Saturday when they defeated the fraternity's best Delta Tau Delta 1632 to 1383.

Softball All-Stars Picked

By BUDDY WOLFE

• PICKING A fraternity all-star softball team this year was a difficult and touchy task. Because of the brevity of the season, lack of time for practice, postponements and forfeits, the fraternities' fielding was sloppy and most batters were inconsistent.

Since so many players outside of those on our first string all-star team were evenly matched at their positions, and because the season was so short, we have chosen only one squad instead of the customary second and/or third strings. The men on our select team are the players we believe to have been the most consistent at their positions and of most value in bringing victories to their fraternities.

Choosing the most valuable player in the fraternity league was a far easier job than picking the team as a whole. Without a doubt Phi Alpha's ace knuckle-baller, Dan Leviton, was the best inter-fraternity softball player. Besides pitching shutouts in both the fraternity and All-U championship games, all within four hours, Dan was the league's leading hitter. He connected for 11 safeties in his 15 times at bat, including a homer and many doubles, to compile the amazing batting average of .733.

This year's GW fraternity dream team shapes up like this:

Sked Lists 4 Loop Games; Nine Beats Terps for 2d Time

By DEAN J. ALMY

• THE COLONIAL NINE has four important home games this week starting with William and Mary whom they meet at 2:30 this afternoon for the first time this year at the South Ellipse.

Wednesday they play a return match with Georgetown in which the Colonials will attempt to gain revenge for a 3-2 defeat the Hoyas handed them at Georgetown on April 25. Friday, they take on VPI and Saturday, Virginia. Both teams beat the Colonials within the past two weeks, and the G Streeters will go all out in an attempt to even the score and remain in the Southern Conference picture. Their conference record of 6-4 puts them one game behind Richmond in the Northern Division.

Phi A's Win All-U Softball

• DAN LEVITON pitched four hours of shutout softball last Sunday as Phi Alpha won both the inter-fraternity and All-U championships by beating TEP, 10-0, and then the Vets Club, 5-0.

Leviton allowed TEP just two hits and the Vets only one as he struck out 22 men of the 42 he faced in the two games. He had excellent fielding support from his teammates all day, but especially in the fifth and sixth innings against TEP who had men on first and second in the fifth when short-stop Ken Kern came up with Mal Mesiter's vicious liner and pitched a strike to first base for a perfect double play that snuffed out the rally.

In the sixth, TEP had men on second and third, but Charlie Goldberg and Bob Edenbaum made shoestring catches in the outfield and TEP could not score. Ralph Feller, Phi Alpha's ace third-baseman who finished the season without making an error, was the day's fielding star as he roamed all around the third-base sack, saving several base hits with his spectacular pickups.

Phi Alpha pounced on TEP's Bernie Band for five quick runs in the first inning of the fraternity championship match. Bob Goldstein led off with a walk, Feller singled, and when Meister bobbled Charlie Goldberg's hard grounder, Goldstein scored. Feller went to third and Goldberg made second. After Kern walked to fill the bases, Ken Hirschfield, TEP's third baseman, dropped Leviton's grounder, and Feller scored.

With Goldberg on third, Leviton stole second and Bo Kirsch got them both home with a double to right. Kirsch took third on a passed ball, and a bit later scored on Ace Adler's single to right. The game might have been called right then, as Leviton took over on the mound. Only Sy Plawsky and Steve Smirnoff hit safely for TEP.

Against the Vets Club for the All-U championship, Leviton permitted only one hit, a double by the Vets' third baseman, Marks. Leviton fanned 12 batters and twice struck out the side, once in the second inning and again in the fifth.

Although the Vets' club could scrape together only one hit, at no time did the game appear to be a farce. The Vets, who give up part of their working days to practice, showed plenty of battle and made only one error in the field. Pitcher Sid Kasimir allowed Phi Alpha only six hits, but unluckily for the Vets, they always came with men on base.

With the Women

By SUE MAGUIRE and PAT MOORE

• THE VARSITY tennis team will meet American University tomorrow in their final match of the year.

The racketeers had their ups and downs in their last two contests, losing to Trinity and then coming back to trounce Mount Vernon.

Amy Schaum was the only winner for the Buff. Against Trinity Phyllis Delastatus and Eileen McNally were defeated in singles as were Charlotte Ostergren and Sue Maguire in the doubles.

Wednesday Mount Vernon was beaten 4-0 as Miss Schaum, Miss Delastatus and Beverly Bicknell all won in the singles. The Colonials won one doubles match and were leading in the second when the contest was halted.

Win 2—Lose 2

Last week, the Colonials continued at their 500 pace for the third straight week. They lost two in a row to VPI and Richmond and bounced back to trip Maryland and Washington and Lee.

VPI beat the Colonials last Monday in Blacksburg by an 8-5 score. A four-run third inning in which the Gobblers socked three triples was the big factor in the win. Moore was on the mound for VPI and went the route to gain the win. Ed Hughes was the loser for GW.

On Tuesday, the Richmond Spiders handed the G Streeters a 6-2 loss at the South Ellipse. Colonial pitcher, George Sengstack, had a one-hitter going into the seventh inning when a walk and singles by Paul Loehr, Ralph Owen, and

Double Knockout

• THE EXCITEMENT of Kenelly's ninth inning game winning homer against Maryland was too much for center fielder Bino Barreira. The mighty "mite," who was seated in the dugout at the time, was "floored" when he jumped up to cheer the booming drive and hit his head on the ceiling of the dugout, knocking him unconscious. "I always jump up when I get excited," he sheepishly explained later.

Warren Long put three Richmond runs across. GW picked up a run in the third and added another in the sixth on Lou Clarrocca's homer. Richmond put the game on ice with three more runs in the eighth. Bob Stephens made a big contribution with two run circuit clouts.

Over the Fence

Joe Kenelly drove a two-run homer 400 feet over the center field fence in the ninth inning Thursday to give the Colonials their second victory of the year over Maryland, 9-8. The Terps were leading 8-7 with two out and no one on when the Maryland first baseman bobbled a throw and Lou Clarrocca was safe at first. Then Kenelly smashed his long drive that put the Colonials ahead to stay.

George Sengstack shut out the Terps in the last two innings and got credit for the win. Sengstack pitched the Colonials to another win Saturday, turning in a neat 6 hitter against W&L at the South Ellipse. With Sengstack hurling great ball, four GW runs in the third inning sewed up the game. They were scored on Bino Barreira's single, Bob Clement's triple, his steal of home, two walks and a triple by Bill Szanyi.
